DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it contains legal phraseology such as "means" and "said" which should be avoided. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).
2. The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use. Headings are lacking.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) THE NAMES OF THE PARTIES TO A JOINT RESEARCH AGREEMENT.
- (e) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC.
- (f) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
 - (1) Field of the Invention.
 - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (g) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (h) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (i) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (j) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (l) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. See MPEP § 2173.05(c). Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claims 1 and 6 recite the broad recitation of a vehicle, and the claim also recites a convertible which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation.

In claim 1, the recitation of a "vehicle" with an "automobile body" is inconsistent phraseology. On line 2, the exact meaning of the term "assigned" to establish a positive structural relationship is unclear. On line 3, the term "selective" in the context of the claim is unclear. On line 4, it is thought that "of" should be changed to --on-- for greater clarity. On line 6, it is unclear whether the "longitudinal stress" is related to the "longitudinal stresses" on line 4. On line 7, it is unclear whether or not the "two struts" are related to the "struts" on line 3. On lines 9-10, the phrase "to which a common actuator is assigned" is vague and indefinite. It is not exactly clear to what the phrase "to which" refers. The exact meaning of the term "assigned" is unclear. On the second to last line, in what way does the actuator "influence" the struts. Exactly what does the term "it" refer to on the last line.

In claim 3, it is unclear whether the term "its" refers to the "holding device" or the "link". The phrase "which..." on the second and last lines, is vague and indefinite.

In claim 5, "underbody" lacks clear antecedent basis.

Claim 6 includes indefinite language that is analogous to that of claim 1.

In claim 8, it is unclear whether the two instances of "parts" on line 3 are related.

In claims 9 and 10, it is unclear whether the proper way to refer to item 15 is a "voltage pressure converter" or a "pressure voltage converter".

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1-10 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.
